DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 1/7/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues Kitaoka does not disclose the invention as claimed in that Kitaoka does not disclose the bumper of the claimed invention extends along an entire edge of at least one of the front portion and the rear portion. Applicant has not specifically defined the front or rear portion with regard to the dimensions of the incontinence article, or relative to other elements in the structure. Thus, the examiner interprets the front and rear portion to be any portion of the front and rear of the incontinence article. The examiner has noted the front portion as area F and the back portion as area R, shown in the figure below. As shown, the bumper 6 extends along an entire edge of at least one of the front portion and rear portion.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-6, 8-10, 12-17, 19-23, and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kitaoka et al. USPN 6425889.

As to claim 1, Kitaoka discloses an incontinence article, comprising: a front portion F; a rear portion R joined to the front portion; and a bumper 6 extending along an entire edge of at least one of the front portion and the rear portion. The foamed member 6 of Kitaoka is considered a bumper in that Kitaoka uses the foamed member to improve the cushioning property of the diaper and contribute to the comfort of the user (col. 5, lines 13-21).

As to claims 2 and 4, Kitaoka discloses a front guard 5 and a bumper 6 in the front portion (col. 4, line 66 through col. 5, line 4). The liquid-resistant sheet 5 of Kitaoka is considered a guard in that Kitaoka discloses the sheet and bumper form a pocket, which is used to prevent body wastes from leaking outward from front and rear waist regions of a diaper (col. 1, lines 34-38)

As to claim 3, Kitaoka discloses a back guard 5 extending from the rear portion, wherein the bumper is attached along a top edge of the back guard (Figures 2 and 5).

As to claim 5, see Figure 1.

As to claim 6, see Figure 4.

Art Unit: 3761

As to claim 8, Kitaoka discloses an incontinence article, comprising: a front portion F having a front guard extending therefrom; a rear portion R having a back guard 5 extending therefrom; a crotch portion 21 between the front portion and the rear portion; and a bumper 6 extending along an entire edge of at least one of the front guard 5 and the back guard 5 (Figures 1, 2, and 5; col. 4, line 66 through col. 5, line 4 – where Kitaoka discloses the guard 5 and bumper 6 are disposed not only in the rear waist region 22, but also in the front waist region 20).

As to claims 9 and 13, Kitaoka discloses a front guard 5 and a bumper 6 in the front portion (col. 4, line 66 through col. 5, line 4).

As to claim 10, see Figures 2 and 5.

As to claim 12, see Figure 1.

As to claim 14, Kitaoka discloses an incontinence article, comprising: a front portion F; a rear portion R having a back guard 5 extending therefrom; a crotch portion 21 between the front portion and the rear portion; and a bumper 6 extending along an entire edge of at least one of the front portion and the back guard.

As to claim 15, see Figure 1.

As to claim 16, Kitaoka discloses a front guard 5 and a bumper 6 in the front portion (col. 4, line 66 through col. 5, line 4).

As to claim 17, Kitaoka discloses a front guard 5 and a bumper 6 in the front portion (col. 4, line 66 through col. 5, line 4).

As to claim 19, see Figure 4.

As to claim 20, Kitaoka discloses an incontinence article, comprising: a front portion F having a front guard 5 extending therefrom; a rear portion R, a crotch portion 21 between the front portion and the rear portion; and a bumper 6 extending along an entire edge of at least one of the front guard 5 and the rear portion (Figures 1, 2, and 5; col. 4, line 66 through col. 5, line 4 – where Kitaoka discloses the guard 5 and bumper 6 are disposed not only in the rear waist region 22, but also in the front waist region 20).

As to claim 21, Kitaoka discloses a front guard 5 and a bumper 6 in the front portion (col. 4, line 66 through col. 5, line 4).

As to claim 22, see Figure 1.

As to claim 23, Kitaoka discloses a front guard 5 and a bumper 6 in the front portion (col. 4, line 66 through col. 5, line 4).

As to claim 25, see Figure 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 7, 11, 18, and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kitaoka. Kitaoka discloses the present invention substantially as claimed. However, Kitaoka does not disclose the bumper is a roll. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to provide the article of Kitaoka with a roll-shaped bumper, since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the shape of the component. A change in shape is generally

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
